BOARD OF HEALTH

The Board of Health wishes to report a general healthy condition in Town. We have, the past year, had cases of scarlet fever and other infectious diseases, but they were quickly cared for with no loss of life. Our clinics have examined many children and they have been examined for their general health and many have been treated both surgically and with medicine and a great improvement and restored health in many cases has been the happy result.

The question of sewerage is not what it should be. There are many "cess pools" that are source of trouble to the tenant and property owner and it is impossible in many cases to keep them from causing trouble by overflowing and contaminating the ground surrounding them and making a dangerous field for the growth of bacteria. The open drain and sink spout, emptying upon the ground is in strict violation of State Law and all are cautioned to empty them only under ground. The habit of spitting in Public Buildings and on sidewalks is to be severally condemned and all must be cautious and not continue in that habit. The time is not far distant I hope when the Town will vote to construct a sewerage system and all will be obliged to connect. We certainly will soon in my opinion face a serious condition if we do not act in the matter. The Health Board wishes to thank all for their hearty co-operation in matters pertaining to this department.

Respectfully,
SAMUEL J. COGSWELL, M. D.
.. Health Officer.

DERRY PUBLIC LIBRARY
REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE DERRY
PUBLIC LIBRARY

It is with mingled feelings of sorrow and pleasure, that we present this report. A very real sorrow in the loss of a trustee, Mrs. Nella F. Callahan, who had been an able and efficient member of the board from the time the library was opened. She had given faithful and loyal support to this institution, and will be greatly missed by her co-workers.

We can hardly realize that our dreams of last year, which then seemed like castles in Spain, have become a reality; and that we are now housed in an attractive and commodious new building; containing a children's room, a reference room and an adult reading room—those features which the library had grown to need so much, and which seemed so impossible of attainment.

The acceptance by the town of the gift of a park, and a new library building on July 6, the laying of the corner stone on October 16, and the dedication of the completed building on January 14, are important dates in the history of our town. We feel that the citizens of Derry will join with us in this expression of gratitude and appreciation for this benefaction, provided for by the will of Henry F. MacGregor, a loyal descendant of that sturdy pioneer stock, which represents the best traditions of New England, and who wished to pay a tribute to that spirit and to his native town. And we realize and appreciate that this was made possible only through the untiring efforts of Mrs. MacGregor.

There are so many to whom our thanks are due for gifts and services, that it is impossible to mention them all. The local newspapers have been particularly kind in printing book lists and notices pertaining to the library. Many of our townspeople assisted us greatly in moving into our new quarters. We are also indebted to the Derry Choral society of 1909-1915 for a gift of $89.78; to the Derry Men's club for $24.00; to the Derry Little Theatre company for $25.00; to the Derry Woman's club for two tables for the children's room. The gifts of money will be used to buy some of the many necessary articles of furniture, and these will be suitably inscribed. The fireplace given by Miss Gaskin is a thoughtful and pleasing expression of her long and happy association with the patrons of the library, and is greatly appreciated.

Respectfully submitted,

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

February 1, 1927

To the Trustees of the Derry Public Library:

The 22nd annual report is herewith presented:

This year the work has been carried on much as during the previous 12 months. In our last report we stated that we had reached the highest mark in circulation in the Library's history. This year we report a small gain over that, 382, making the year's circulation 43,802. This denotes a busy year with no decrease in the efforts of the library force.

The circulation by no means measures the library work. Many students come daily into the library taking notes from reference books and often using a half dozen or more others, but as they are not taken from the building they are not counted in the home circulation, but the work of finding these books and afterwards returning them to their proper place takes more time than if they were loaned for home use.

Our thoughts and plans have during much of the year circled round the new building being erected for our use and I will not have to mention as I have done so many times the need of more space. It must be realized however, that the change will necessitate more service from the library force and that in the near future a second person giving full time will be required.

A visit was made by the Librarian to one of the local teacher's meetings and the help the library could be to the schools and teachers was spoken of. Since then many more pictures have been loaned to the schools, and teachers from distant schools have taken books for use in the school-rooms. Twenty schools have been visited, by the Librarian, some of them more than once. In each case the library is brought to the attention of the pupils and endeavor is made to link up the library with their school work.

Children's Book Week was observed in November and about sixty children's books were exhibited and the following week circulated. A contest in designing book marks was participated in by the school children and cash prizes were given to the following:

- 1st prize—Donald Houston, 6th grade
 2nd prize—Evelyn Becker, 8th grade
 also Ralph DesRosier, 5th grade

In June your Librarian with the Chairman of your board attended the New Hampshire Library Association held in Littleton. This proved an enjoyable as well as instructive occasion. Later in the summer your Librarian was away for seven weeks during which time she was privileged in traveling through six countries of Europe. Since her return one bulletin board has been used to display cards secured on the trip. In the near future she plans to talk to the pupils of some of the schools about things seen abroad which might interest them.

The yearly bulletin was printed in March, which was a cumulation of all books added during the year. Each group are also printed in the local papers and they are added to the library.

As another year closes adding one more to the Librarian's twenty years of service she again wishes to thank the library assistants and the trustees for their support and assistance in the work she has tried to accomplish.

Auditor

July 14, 1926

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS
To the Derry School Boards:

It gives me pleasure to present my seventh annual report of the condition of the schools in Derry. No attempt is made in this report to cover the whole of the field of school endeavor.

Each annual report has dealt with the financial conditions of the schools giving the details of the receipts and expenditures together with a statement of the assets and liabilities. School statistics are recorded in each report. A review of miscellaneous topics every year would require too much space. The report, therefore, covers a different cross section of school work accomplished each year.

This report deals fully with the methods the superintendent uses in interpreting the statistics of the age-grade table, methods of dealing with backward children, the reasons for a longer school year, novel methods in teaching language to children, a report on health and a report on music.

SCHOOL AGE

An age-grade table has been printed for several years with little or no comment concerning its general significance. It has been used to show the per cent of pupils retarded, normal and ahead of their grade. This year a full explanation accompanies this table with several charts and a graph of the relation of mental age to chronological age as it is found in our schools.

THE RELATION OF AGE TO GRADE

The method of computing the age-grade table whether chronological or mental age is considered, is upon the formula that all children of

| Age | up to | Age | are | Grade |
|-----|-------|-----|-----|-------|
| 6 | | 7 | | I |
| 7 | | 8 | | II |
| 8 | | 9 | | III |
| 9 | | 10 | | IV |
| 10 | | 11 | | V |
| 11 | | 12 | | VI |
| 12 | | 13 | | VII |
| 13 | | 14 | | VIII |

The tables of chronological and mental ages include only pupils from the three largest schools, the Floyd, West Side and Oak Street.

The number of pupils recorded in the two tables differs slightly owing to the fact that some of the pupils were out of school the day the mental ages of the pupils were taken. The mental ages of the pupils in the smaller schools have not been determined with the same degree of accuracy as they were in the larger schools. Hence, there is no attempt to make a comparison of mental age and chronological age in the latter schools.

There is for some reason little or no retardation in the small schools. Just why retardation in the school system should be closely associated with single grades is a problem which this school system has to solve.

Among the contributing causes to over-ageness in the grades is the rule excluding pupils from entrance to school until they are five years and eight months old. This ruling keeps many pupils who are healthy, mentally and physically out of school. Many children do not attend school until they are nearly seven years of age. Owing to such late entrance many pupils learn a little reading and writing at home. They are thus advanced in grade when they enter school. Such pupils are placed in the grades where they are best fitted to do the work. This is often the second and even the third grade.

Early entrance is not advocated in this system of schools. We find, for this reason, in the age-grade tables a number of pupils retarded not because of failure to do the work but because late entrance is permitted. Other causes of much retardation in the grades are illness, changing schools, inability to do the work as rapidly as the average child and special disabilities that may be remedied.

Another factor that causes a large amount of retardation and much variation in the numbers of children in the various grades is the large floating population. In the school year of 1925-1926 one hundred and fifty children moved out of town. These children were replaced by one hundred and ten children who moved into town. This large floating population, constituting, approximately one sixth of our average attendance, presents a difficult problem for the teaching force and the administrative officers.

The examination of a single grade, the sixth for the year 1925-1926, discloses that seventy-seven of the eighty-nine pupils of this grade have attended Derry schools six years, six of them five years, two of them three years, and four of them two years. Fourteen pupils left this grade during this year for some other town. Thus it may be noted that over thirty per cent of the pupils of this grade have moved either in or out of town. Many of the pupils who have come from other towns have attended a number of different schools. These pupils usually suffer greatly from retardation. Undoubtedly an examination of the statistical details of the other grades would tell a like story.

A COMPARISON OF MENTAL AGE WITH CHRONOLOGICAL AGE

The attention of the reader is called to the chronological and mental age-grade tables and their summaries. These statistics are graphically illustrated on pg. 113. A study of this graph discloses that while the largest number of children in grade one are six years of age chronologically the mental age of the largest number is only five years. Sixteen others in this grade are but four years of age mentally. There are sixty-three per cent of the children of this grade under age mentally while there are but twenty-four per cent under age chronologically. Since a mental age of six years is necessary to do the work of the first grade according to our present standards well, it is apparent that either these pupils have entered school too early or our standards are too high for the majority of this grade to work to good advantage. The graph of the odd ages is omitted for the sake of clearness but a study of the tables shows much the same conditions prevail in the second grade as in the first.

The mental age of the third grade is a year or more behind the chronological age. Thus the ratio of mental underageness prevails approximately the same in all of the first three grades. In these grades there is but little mental overageness. Chronologically there is a large amount of overageness. In the third grade this amounts to over forty per cent.

In the remaining grades chronological age and mental age range about the same. In the grades above the fifth there is much overageness both mentally and chronologically. In the seventh grade mental age spreads from nine to eighteen years while chronological age spreads from ten to sixteen years. In all of the grades mental age has a wider spread than chronological age.

The largest number of pupils in the lower four grades is a year younger mentally than chronologically. These pupils are working at a great disadvantage because the subject-matter is a little too difficult for them. The pupils in the upper four grades appear to be well adjusted mentally to the work they are doing.

This study indicates that the courses of study we are using in the upper grades are too easy for some of the pupils. On the other hand, in the lower grades, the courses of study are too difficult for some of the underage pupils.

As a remedy for those pupils who are backward in the second, third and fourth grades a coaching teacher is employed. A minimum course of study for these pupils is in the process of construction. Many of the backward pupils have some special disability or an arrest of mental development that may be removed by natural growth or special treatment. A written diagnosis of fifty or more of these cases has been made by the special teachers. A number of pupils suffering special disabilities in reading, writing and number have responded to this treatment and have been returned to their grades.

SPECIAL CLASSES

Forty-five children in the lower grades have received coaching in special classes at the Floyd, West Side and Oak Street Schools. Of these forty-five children two have been advanced a grade, nine have been returned to their classes and thirty-four are having special instruction for disabilities. All but four of these thirty-four children have good prospects of continuing with their own grades. Such work is amply rewarded by its own merit.

TEACHERS

Fourteen teachers devoted six weeks of the vacation to attendance at summer schools. Six attended Harvard Summer School, six Plymouth Normal School, one the University of Vermont and one Fitchburg Normal School. It has always been the policy of the School Board to encourage attendance at the summer schools and it is hoped that the number of teachers, who avail themselves of the opportunity to attend, will in the future increase. Many more should work for credits of undergraduate or graduate grade.

A LONGER SCHOOL YEAR

Owing to so much stormy weather last year Derry schools made a poor record in total number of days of school actually in session. The tendency of the school districts generally throughout the state for the last eight years has been to increase the number of days of school. A few years ago one hundred and sixty to one hundred and seventy days of school was regarded as the average and was satisfactory. This has gradually increased until this year the average school keeps from one hundred and seventy to one hundred and eighty school days. This increase in the school year has been secured in some places by excluding certain holidays, in others by having as many of the holidays as possible come in vacation. Some places have adopted a ruling against closing the schools in stormy weather. Many places have increased the length of the school year to thirty-eight weeks. The latter plan allows a sufficient number of holidays and a few days for bad weather.

SUMMER SCHOOL

There is every reason why Derry should have its schools open one hundred and eighty full days in the year. Our previous study has indicated many of our pupils need the benefits of a largely increased school year. A summer school of six weeks would greatly improve the system and in the long run the cost would be no greater because of the increased progress during the time they are in session.

ENGLISH IN THE GRADES

Last fall our teachers investigated a method of teaching English along creative lines. The principle lying behind this idea is to create within the child a desire to master and habituate a better and more effective expression of the English language. It is based upon the fact that a child not only desires to possess a few interesting and beautiful books, but this love of books is most thrilling when associated with the child's use of English in story telling and story writing. Story reading, story telling and story writing, harnessed together are natural ways of producing a flow of English.

Our purpose is to produce a powerful motive that will, through co-operative motives of the child create the desire to use the period because he needs the period, to use the question mark because he consciously formulated a question and to use capitals so that his friends may know where each sentence begins and to use a better selection of words because they will give a greater pleasure to his hearers and readers. The use of this method gives the child much pleasure in discovering how things are done. The time spent in spelling, handwriting, art and English are all included in the project of writing a book.

The children are given drill in spelling so that they may spell correctly the words they use in the story they write. They learn ordinary subject-matter of this kind two or three times as rapidly as usual because they see some real reason for using the words. Handwriting drills are given before copying their stories. Such drill is worth many weeks of aimless drill. Art is done on the illustrated cover, title page and other parts of the child's book. This vitalizes both the handwriting and the drawing.

The amount of time to be allotted to this work from the daily program has constituted a serious problem for the teachers to solve. At a recent meeting of the teachers it was unanimously decided to employ the method and find ways and means of keeping the program clear for routine subjects.

EVENING SCHOOL

An evening school for adults has been maintained. The total enrolment was seventeen, but the average was ten. Three women have been in attendance. More people in Derry who need instruction in the English language and the fundamentals of an education should attend this school.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

This school is doing much excellent work for children twelve to fourteen years of age. The results of the work are beginning to show in the better quality of pupils completing these grades as is shown in their desire to learn, to know and to act.

There were two changes in the personnel of the teaching force of this school owing to the resignations of Miss Alice Eastman and Miss Louise Maguire. We were fortunate to be able to hold the standards of the school up by employing two very able teachers to take their places.

HEALTH

The examinations of children in school were started in the early fall. The children were weighed, measured, tested in sight, hearing, lungs and heart. Dr. Ralph Barker, Dr. Walter Sanders and Dr. J. C. Tappan have contributed their services. There are some pupils yet to be examined by Dr. Samuel Cogswell.

Miss Mackintosh reports that the sanitary conditions at Oak Street are much improved. The other buildings are in good condition.

One hundred and thirty-eight pupils were found to be 10 per cent or more underweight. Underweight clinics are held every two months to determine the causes of underweight among these children. The examinations are conducted by Dr. Robert Kerr of the N. H. Tuberculosis Association. Fifty-one children attended the first clinic.

A milk clinic has again been organized by the Derry Women's Club. This is very much appreciated by the parents and school authorities. It has proved to be very beneficial to many children. During the winter months of the last school year over nine thousand bottles of milk were served to the school children.

Thirty-two operations for tonsils and adenoids have been performed at the Clinic rooms, Manchester and Haverhill. There have been twenty-five children specially examined by an eye expert. Many of these children have already been fitted with glasses. Eight other children have had special medical treatment at Manchester.

A toxin-antitoxin clinic has recently been conducted for the prevention of diphtheria. This clinic was largely patronized with few cases of ill effects. Those suffering from slight ill effects of the treatment are said by the physicians to be more susceptible to the disease than those who suffer no ill effects.

A dental clinic to be conducted by Dr. George Danforth will soon open.

MUSIC

The music supervisor, Miss Geraldine Daggett, reports the following organization of her activities.

In the Junior High School is a mixed glee club that gave a commendable Christmas Carol concert.

In the Academy is a ten piece orchestra and girl's and boy's glee club which combined to give an interesting Thanksgiving concert. The orchestra is very popular and has provided music for several public entertainments. These clubs and the orchestra are planning on an operetta which is to be presented March 11.

The usual grade work is progressing satisfactorily. The work in music appreciation in the upper grades should receive special commendation. This consists of music memory contests from phonograph records and the lives and works of different composers. The village and East Derry schools are to be specially commended for this work. All teachers are reported as co-operating splendidly and the work they and the pupils have done is much appreciated.

IN MEMORIAM

Mrs. Nella Callahan was suddenly taken from us last fall after a short illness in the midst of a productive career as a teacher. Her services as a teacher were greatly appreciated. Her influence was also felt in other walks of life, civic and social. She was ever seeking to raise the standards of her work and up to her last illness was not only rendering highly skilled services but was extending her work in new fields of thought and activities. Her thirty-one years of abundant services to the town have been recognized by the school board through their resolutions published last fall and spread upon their records.

CONCLUSION

It gives me pleasure to take this opportunity to express my appreciation of the cordial relations that have existed between the superintendent and the two school boards of this town in the solution of the many problems that have arisen concerning the schools of Derry.

Respectfully submitted,

CARL COTTON,
Superintendent of Schools.
